squad in the Atlantic off Ireland. "We hit a very bad squall," said Capt. Everett Wolf after landing in London. "If that KLM plane had engine trouble she really might have been in a bad way." Wolf said the Dutch plane, after taking off from Shannon, would have been in a lower strata of the weather than his plane. "It was really rough down there," he said. "We were a bit above the weather, but brother, we felt it. The squalls with rain lasted 25 to 30 minutes."

He said the KLM sky giant may have hit the squalls as it climbed out from Shannon. "If she had a big load of passengers and there was some engine trouble, it could have been nasty," Wolf said.

He made no comment on Eisenhower's proposals.

Labor Curbs Refused by Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Labor Committee today refused to consider legislation putting new curbs on unions.

Some members are talking of bringing up at that time a Senate-passed bill by Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Irving Ives (R-N.Y.).

That was one of the measures turned back in the committee today. Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich.) moved to bring it up and the committee voted him down 22-7.

Six Republicans joined the committee Democrats in that vote.

Then on a strict party division, 16-13 Democrats defeated a motion by Rep. John J. Rhodes (R-Aiz) to consider a substitute introduced by Rep. Carroll D. Kearns (R-Pa.) and backed by Republican committee members.

Rep. Graham Barden (D-NC), chairman, said he had been rapped by newspapers and others for not giving the committee a chance to vote on the question, and "I'm tired of it."

Before today's vote, Kearns said if the committee approved his bill he believed the House would accept it.

The Senate bill, which would require public disclosure of union finances and grant the secretary of labor power to subpoena records to assist him in enforcing compliance. It also would limit trusteeship of any local union to 18 months and require secret ballot election of national and local union officers, with term limits of four years for national officers and three years for local officers.

Hoffa Denies Probststein Good Friend

WASHINGTON (AP) — The former manager of a now defunct Indianapolis taxi company testified today that Senator James R. Hoffa, who disappeared in 1950 and is presumed dead, was not his friend.

Hugh Wagner told the Senate Select Committee investigating the unionists' disappearance that he had known Hoffa since 1935 and was a close friend.

Wagner's statement came after testimony by Teamsters President James R. Hoffa, who had loaned him $8,000.

The senators, who had spent Wednesday trailing unsuccessfully for the identity of the higher-ups who snatched a 1953 House investigation of Hoffa, switched suddenly to study of the taxi company case.

Hoffa testified he and Owen Brennan, an international teamsters vice president, loaned Probststein $8,000 of their own funds—drawn from a firm owned in the maiden names of their wives—on May 14, 1954.

Hoffa said the money came from either the Hoburn or Test Fleet Corp., two of their Michigan holdings, and that only $7,000 of it was paid back.

"I don't put nothing on my wife," Hoffa heatedly told the committee, when his chief counsel, Robert F. Kennedy, asked whether it would be necessary to call Mrs. Hoffa for questioning about the loan.

Before today's session, Kennedy told newsmen that Hoffa would be asked what he knows about the abandonment of the 1953 House probe of Hoffa's affairs.

There also was a possibility further light might be shed on the matter by Rep. Wm. Smith (R-Kan.), co-chairman of the 1953 investigation.

His wife said Wednesday night at the Smiths' home at Mankato, Kan., that her husband was en route to Washington and would arrive today.

Efforts to care for the mentally sick, Mrs. Rockefeller cited the new Children's Colony as an expression of this interest.

The council will conclude its 4-day meeting tomorrow. About 650 persons are attending the sessions at Southern State College.

The group today honored four persons for outstanding service. They were Mrs. Iva Gray Taylor, home economist for the First Electric Co-operative at Jackson, Miss.; Marvin Vines, farm news director for stations KTHS-KTHY at Little Rock; Mrs. Margaret Brownfield, Washington County home demonstration agent; and Miss Juanita Fuller, Craighead County home demonstration agent.

College Boys Will Try to Outpass Pros

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN Associated Press Sports Writer CHICAGO (AP) — Using a double-unit backfield, the College All-Stars will try to outpass and outrun the Detroit Lions Friday night.

That is more than most of the National Football League clubs could do last year.

It is such a tall order the odds-makers think the All-Stars won't come within 13 points of winning. The pros kings will be shooting for their 16th decision in the series. Their last defeat came when the Cleveland Browns lost 30-27 in 1955.

The ex-collegians have seven victories. Two games were tied. Otto Graham, All-Stars' head coach for the first time, knows he can't show the Lions anything they haven't seen before except new faces.

"We have a good All-Star squad but the trick is not to make too many mistakes," said Graham, who may decide he has enough manpower to relay plays to his quarterbacks in the manner of Paul Brown, his old Cleveland coach.

"We aren't naive enough to think the Lions will make many mistakes. If they do, it will be one of those breaks that might balance the game in our favor. We know we'll have trouble if the Lions feel like playing and want to win."

Graham's two-unit backfield system will key the offense. One set will be led by quarterback King Hill of Rice and include Walt Kowalek of Michigan State at fullback and Jim Pace of Michigan and Dick Christy of North Carolina State at halfback.

The other unit will have Jim Ninowski of Michigan State as quarterback, fullback Jim Taylor of Louisiana State, and Bob Mitchell of Illinois and Phil King of Vanderbilt at the halves.

Seldom have the All-Stars had such fine break-away runners as Mitchell, Pace and Len Lyles of Louisville, the 1957 top collegiate scorer with 132 points.

They have power and speed in such runners as John Sample of Maryland State and Kowalek. They have exceptional passers in Hill, Tom Forrestal of Navy and Ninowski.

In addition to the fleet halfbacks they have outstanding receivers at end—such as Fred Dugan of Dayton, Jim Gibbons of Iowa, Bob Jewett of Michigan State and Tom Schulte of East Kentucky State.

All this plus a line that could average 234 pounds from tackle to tackle.

Mother of Elvis Presley Dies

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Mrs. Vernon Presley, mother of rock 'n' roll singer Elvis Presley, died today. She had been hospitalized earlier this week with a liver ailment.

Attendants at Methodist Hospital said Mrs. Presley had been in a serious condition but she had been reported in improved spirits after visits Wednesday from her son.

Mrs. Presley's husband was at her bedside when she died, but Elvis was not in the hospital at the time.

Elvis, now an Army private at Ft. Hood, Tex., was granted an emergency seven-day furlough to visit his mother, who entered the hospital Sunday. He flew here Tuesday night.

Home Aides Unite Miss Polly Jo Compton and Ralph Hardey Carrington

At 4:30 on the afternoon of August 12, Miss Polly Jo Compton became the bride of Ralph Hardey Carrington in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Compton. The groom is the son of Mrs. Leo Carrington of Prescott and the late Mr. Carrington.

In the presence of the immediate families of the bride couple, Dr. John McClanahan, pastor of the First Baptist Church, performed the double-ring ceremony before a background of yellow gladioli and greenery.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a theater length dress of white ruffled lace over taffeta, fashioned on princess lines with a sweetheart neckline and cap sleeves. A cummerbund and back panels of taffeta complimented the costume. The veil of illusion fell from a crescent-shaped bandeau trimmed with orange blossoms. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of lilies of the valley centered with a white orchid.

The maid of honor was Miss Jo Fincher of Little Rock. She wore a theater length dress of yellow lace over cotton satin. Her picture hat was made of yellow net and had an open crown. Miss Fincher carried a crescent bouquet of white daisy chrysanthemums.

Ralph Bishop Hardey of Austin, Texas, uncle of the groom, was the best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Compton wore a silk organza dress in mosaic print, while Mrs. Carrington was attired in blue lace. Each had an orchid corsage.

A small reception was held in the Compton home following the ceremony. The serving table, covered with a white lace cloth, was centered with an arrangement of white daisy chrysanthemums and yellow candles. Mrs. R. C. Beaver of Hot Springs, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Clyde A. Monks Jr., served the tiered wedding cake and the fruit punch.

When the couple left on a short wedding trip, the bride wore a black and brown checkered cotton suit with a hat of orange feathers. Her other accessories were black, and she pinned her wedding orchid at her shoulder. DOROTHY DIX

Mom Enforces Curfew for Mature Daughter

Dear Dorothy Dix:

Although I'm 36, my mother sets a curfew as though I were 16. Ten o'clock on week nights and midnight on Saturday is the law. I live alone with my mother who is in good health and we get along fine — most of the time. She does the cooking, I do the rest of the work. We get along, I might add, as long as I don't have a boy friend. I've been going with Leon, a charming man, for several months. Mom doesn't like him. In fact, I think she dislikes attention on general principles. Both my sisters, incidentally, married against her wishes (though they are both very happily wed). I feel like walking out, too, but I know I'll be miserable worrying about mom. Is there any solution to a problem like this?

S. N.

Dear S. N.: The problem of a selfish tyrannical parent, and a conscientious, dutiful child, is just about insoluble. Your mother is very much interested in keeping you unmarried and naturally regards any man as a threat to her way of life — which is just about perfect. You've catered to her for a long time, spending all your salary on the home, giving her all your time and attention and she simply will not tolerate any change.

Your only chance of happiness is to tell her frankly and quietly that you intend to get married, that you're going to leave the house, but will always see to it that she's cared for and that you will visit regularly. The alternative is a lonely old age for you, Leon will find another girl, and your mother will live out the rest of her life in the comfort to which she insists on being accustomed. So, pray that you can make her see the light.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My husband and I have been married for over 30 years and have raised two children. For most of that time he has been sick — or thought he was — and I have supported the family. Now he has given up work entirely. He won't go any place, or do anything but eat, sleep and listen to the radio. I'm not ready to bury myself yet. I still hold a good job and think I deserve a little more. Brownie

Dear Brownie: If you're fully convinced that your husband is suffering from a permanent aversion to work, you are certainly entitled to a change of scenery after years of hard work. Certain facts, however, must be faced. Your husband won't change, so you must find something on your own. Leaving your husband won't solve the problem either. Take a trip, adopt a hobby that will put you in contact with people, join a civic club or volunteer for the Civilian Defense program. Enjoy your children and grandchildren, and you can still build a full life for yourself. And more power to you.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My young sister is a widow who gets welfare aid for her three small children. Several months ago she got mixed up with a good for nothing man and I wish the authorities could do something about it. She's afraid of him. He never works, gets her checks, which he cashes and spends the money on himself. My husband and I went over to the house to interfere, and he told us to get out or he'd kill us. He sneeringly informed us that he's not the only man who finds it easier to live off someone else's welfare checks than to work.

Dear Deena: Report this case to the welfare people immediately. The purpose of welfare is to see that children are properly raised and your sister's youngsters certainly aren't achieving this aim. Either they will see that the man is kept away from your sister, or take the children from her, which will naturally stop her welfare checks.

Dear Deena: Report this case to the welfare people immediately. The purpose of welfare is to see that children are properly raised and your sister's youngsters certainly aren't achieving this aim. Either they will see that the man is kept away from your sister, or take the children from her, which will naturally stop her welfare checks.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My young sister is a widow who gets welfare aid for her three small children. Several months ago she got mixed up with a good for nothing man and I wish the authorities could do something about it. She's afraid of him. He never works, gets her checks, which he cashes and spends the money on himself. My husband and I went over to the house to interfere, and he told us to get out or he'd kill us. He sneeringly informed us that he's not the only man who finds

Dear Brownie: If you're fully convinced that your husband is suffering from a permanent aversion to work, you are certainly entitled to a change of scenery after years of hard work. Certain facts, however, must be faced. Your husband won't change, so you must find something on your own. Leaving your husband won't solve the problem either. Redlegs Keeping Braves at Top of the League

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Redlegs kept the Milwaukee Braves in the black in the National League pennant race.

After losing a two-game series at Pittsburgh, the Braves got well again at Cincinnati Wednesday night, sweeping the Redlegs, 9-2 and 4-2 in a two-night doubleheader. That gave the world champs, who were 13-4 against the Reds last season, a 16-3 record against Cincinnati and a 51-game lead over the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Reds now have won seven in a row — their longest winning streak since 1949, when they won eight straight.

Third-place San Francisco swept St. Louis 11-2, and Los Angeles resumed the collar (while Cincinnati tumbled) by beating the Chicago Cubs 6-3 in the other NL games.

In the American League, Washington defeated New York 9-4, the Chicago White Sox split a two-night pair with Kansas City, winning 6-5 after a 2-1 defeat in 11 innings; Baltimore beat Boston 2-1; and Detroit swept a two-nighter at Cleveland 6-2 and 3-2.

Loop 'Patsies' Suddenly Turn on Tormentors

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

A cabal of natsies had themselves a ball Wednesday night in the American League.

The Washington Senators, who hadn't beaten Whitey Ford in almost four years, rapped the New York Yankees, sturdy southpaw, for a 9-4 victory.

And the Baltimore Orioles, who had lost seven in a row to Frank Sullivan of Boston, beat the big right hander for the first time since Sept. 9, 1956, with a 2-1 victory over the Red Sox.

These turn-about cut the Yankees' lead to 14½ games over second-place Chicago and dumped Boston into a third-place tie with Detroit. The White Sox split a two-night pair with Kansas City, winning 6-5 after an 11-inning 2-1 defeat. The Tigers swept two from Cleveland 6-2 and 5-2.

In the National League, the Milwaukee Braves took two from Cincinnati, 9-2 and 4-2, and moved 5½ games ahead of Pittsburgh, although the second-place Pirates stretched their winning streak to seven with a 10-8 victory at Philadelphia. San Francisco rapped St. Louis 11-2 and Los Angeles defeated the Chicago Cubs 6-5.

Deadlock on Farm Issue to Be Broken

By L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House, yielding to mounting pressures from the farm belt and cotton textile manufacturers, moved today to break the session-end deadlock over new farm legislation.

vide the Eisenhower administration with much of what it has demanded in the way of lower price supports and more flexible management of the farm program.

It would also forestall an impending cut in cotton and rice acreage which Secretary of Agriculture Benson has said would be disastrous to farmers.

Textile manufacturers faced higher cotton prices in the absence of legislation splashing government price supports for the fiber. They would benefit from a gradual lowering of support levels and a corresponding decrease in market prices for cotton. Thus, they have been among the strongest backers of a compromise.

The end of the House deadlock was announced by House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.), who earlier et declared there would be no new farm bill in the House after two defeats and a presidential veto of farm proposals this year.

Republican overtures were accepted by House Democratic leaders, however, and Rayburn announced he was calling up at today's session a bill which he said "everybody will support."

In the Senate, Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) said that without an agreement, cotton state senators would keep Congress in session "until hell freezes over."

Sen. George Aiken (R-Vt.) said he doubted that the House compromise version would be completely acceptable to the Senate and would have to go to conference for adjustment of differences. But he said there were no insurmountable difficulties.

The compromise announced by Rayburn differed only in minor degree from the bill killed by the House less than two weeks ago.

It would forestall sharp acreage cuts in cotton and rice next year, provide for a gradual lowering of support levels during 1959 and 1960, and give Benson a flexible price support range between 90 and 65 per cent of parity.

But the compromise bill eliminates proposed alternate price support floors of $1.18 a bushel for corn, 30 cents a pound for cotton and $4 a hundredweight for rice.

It retains House provisions for continuing the 25-year-old concept of parity for computing support levels of cotton and rice. It also gives corn farmers the choice of continuing the present farm program or accepting a new principle of calculating supports on the average of market prices for the three preceding years. Corn growers would also have the choice of taking a floor of 65 per cent of parity and no acreage allotments. Parity is a legal standard deemed fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

The Senate bill would eliminate the parity principle and substitute the average market price method for calculating supports. It provides for a support floor of 60 per cent, with alternative floors of $1.15 a bushel for corn, 30 cents a pound for cotton, and $4 a hundredweight for rice.

Benson has called for lowering price supports to a range of 90 to 60 per cent of parity. He also has backed the "market price" support principle.

Both House and Senate bills would continue cotton price sup-

The car moved slowly out of the school parking lot. "Find out anything?" Seijes asked.
"Not much. Bruce was human enough to like his own way, and he could be pretty hardheaded about getting it."
"That's better than having to listen to how good and sweet he was. He was beginning to sound like he was something someone wound up with a key. Not a living kid at all."
"Yeah. I was beginning to feel

Trapped Two Days in Closet, Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A woman trapped for more than two days in a closet died Tuesday night.
Firemen used hacksaws to free 62-year-old Mrs. Ruby Hummingbird, Tuesday. Authorities said she apparently suffered a stroke and as she fell wedged between a folding bed and a closet wall. She lay helpless until discovered by a neighbor.
Mrs. Hummingbird used the closet for sleeping after retiring out her apartment bedrooms.

Bends to Kiss a Baby, Is Killed

GRAVESEND, England (AP) — A mother of nine children was killed here Tuesday as she bent over a baby carriage to kiss her 3-month-old daughter Yvonne.
Mrs. Kathleen Hewson was wearing a metal clip in her hair. Lightning struck it and she fell with her hair ablaze. The baby, Yvonne, was not hurt.

Waives Hearing on Manslaughter Charge

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — A Paragould doctor today waived preliminary hearing in Municipal Court here to charges of manslaughter stemming from a fatal airplane crash earlier this year.
Dr. R. W. Ratton was bound over to action of the Grand Jury and released under $1,000 bond.
Ratton survived a mid-air plane collision here Jan. 19 in which the occupants of the other craft were killed.
The victims were Charles H. Busby, 35, of Jonesboro and Billy Wayne Robinson, 23, of Paragould who were killed when their plane crashed. Ratton managed a belly landing at the Jonesboro airport and escaped injury.
The collision occurred as both planes approached the airfield for landing.
The warrant on the manslaughter charges was obtained by Busby's widow, Mrs. Goldie Busby.

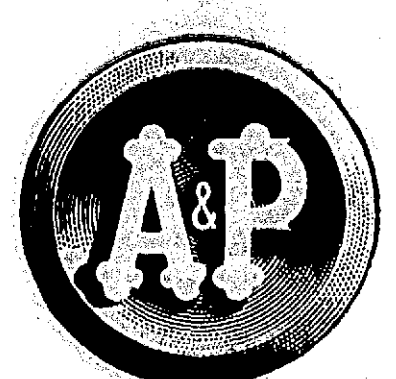

presented a challenge for the rest of the students, Bruce could read once and have perfectly in his mind. It was just no problem for him."

Morrison nodded.
Neff made a pyramid of his fingers and went on. "There's no doubt in my mind that given time Bruce could have been one of the most brilliant students I have ever had, but in honesty I must admit he gave me the impression that he was merely killing time in my class. Bored is the word for it, I guess. His father, teacher, seemed to have much the same trouble. All but Mr. Higbee, the music instructor, that is."
"I met Mr. Higbee, along with the other teachers that had Bruce for a student, this morning."
Neff's face brightened. "He's a dedicated man, Lieutenant, really dedicated. Fortunately for him, although I don't mean to sound envious, his wife has an income which enables him to further his education and take courses that others of us must forego. If ever a man deserved it, though, it's Mr. Higbee. He's a born teacher."
"I'm sure he must be very competent. Does he get along well with his pupils?"
"The science teacher smiled a little ruefully. 'Well, he is a perfectionist, and few people are perfect. There have been a few misunderstandings, but those who know him know he drives himself twice as hard as he does anyone else.'
"I see," Morrison answered. "I also talked to two young ladies, named Prather and Parnell, and to a Mrs. Helm. What about them?"
Neff looked as if something smoldered.
"How that Parnell woman ever got her degree, I don't know. It couldn't have been on merit. Her only interest in her job is that it will feed her until she can find herself a husband. Almost the same is true of Miss Prather, except she doesn't spend as much of her time primping. To give a woman like that a permit to teach an exact science like mathematics is criminal."
"I see."
"As for Mrs. Helm, she's only working until she and her husband can get their house paid for. It's criminal. Any one of the three could accomplish her goal by working in a factory. There they couldn't endanger the minds of our young people."
"It was obvious that women teachers were a sore point. 'Well, I guess that's about all. Were you home Tuesday evening?'
"Yes. That was when my cold was at its worst. I had aches in every joint and a headache the likes of which I can never remember having before."

Alaska Proves to Be Spot of Adventure

By BOB CONSIDINE

FAIRBANKS, Alaska — There are streams in Alaska that haven't been fished a dozen times since we bought the place from Russia. Flying to Lake Wonder in Mt. McKinley National Park the other day, Bill Hearst shouted back from the cockpit's seat, "The caribou stroll through Camp Denali, a blend of rugged frontier and the Alpine Lodge sort of thing, where we spent some time looking in the direction where the awe-inspiring Mt. McKinley would have been if it wouldn't have been raining and fogging."

Anyway, the whole blinking new state-to-be constitutes an outdoor man's dream. The fish and game are here in abundance, abundance and variety. But don't come with the expectation of having them top in your lap in the cocktail lounge of the plushy Travelers Inn. They're out in the land and water that are hardly less house-broken than when the four-doughs slogged into Fairbanks half a century and more ago. Alaska, like its fish and game, its people, just won't roll over and surrender.

The hunter, non-fisherman can find other outlets in sports, this close to the Arctic, thanks to the American's characteristic refusal to live under conditions that rule out some kind of participation, golf, curling, dog-sled racing and—even though no horses could exist here, much less race, there's a $100,000 sports event each year.

The latter is the annual "ice pool," a sweepstakes event which sends the player to his weather charts and performance rather than to Pat Lynch for the racing form. The pay-off is based on the day, hour, minute and second when the ice breaks up at the town of Nenana on the Tanana river. Chances go on sale each January 1. A tripod is set out on the thick ice in mid-river and a wire is strung from it to an electric clock on shore. When the ice breaks late the following spring, the tripod starts downstream, jerks the wire, and the clock is stopped. Last year the pool was $105,000. The game dates back to the days of the old pan miners. It was the only wheel in Nenana.

The Fairbanksian seems to know more about the big league pennant races than, let us say, most New Yorkers. A local radio "recreates" a game each day as well as booming out scores, batting and pitching averages, and the like. As for actual baseball participation, there is a Fairbanks little league team and a 4-team adult league made up of civilian and military personnel. The feature of the 4-month baseball season is the annual June 21st midnight game, played, of course, without need of artificial lighting. University of Alaska is resuming football this summer as part of a 4-team league of locals. The football season ends in Fairbanks about the time ours is getting up a head of steam. Ed Orbeck, a city councilman about 40, plays on one of the teams the college boys will meet.

Things That Might Be in Year 2,008

By SAUL PETT

AP Staff Writer

On Aug. 15, 2,008, despite some heavy mon-bound traffic, the earth made its complete turn in space in the usual elapsed time of 23 hours, 56 minutes, 4.091 seconds.

It was a day like all other days. Some history was made, some footnotes were added. Some people died, some were born, humanity inched forward.

In Moscow, the Linsky government had complete control and began downgrading the Malinsky government which had downgraded the Shmolyak government, which long before had downgraded the Khushchey government for making a cult out of world travel.

In the United States, inflation had finally been halted and once more a housewife could buy a loaf of white bread for $2.89.

Her husband, the average American, set out for the office in a car 30 feet long, 18 inches high. He drove lying down, steering with his feet, his eyes on a small TV screen in the ceiling. Air experts predicted that in the future helicopters, rather than autos, would be commonplace.

It was, as usual, a busy day in Washington.

The President of the United States, a former physicist, told his semiannual press conference: "E=mc² plus M² minus W equals N²." Early English translation: "I'm going to Saturn for the weekend."

The State Department said it was still hopeful of obtaining recognition from the government in Dallas.

A light-star general, chairman of the Consolidated Chiefs of the Combined Chiefs of the Joint Chief of Staff, testified that an atomic missile war was imminent unless the Army were given com-

News Briefs

LOCARNO, Switzerland (AP)—"Ten North Frederick," an American film based on John O'Hara's novel of the same name, was awarded the gold trophy last night for the best picture presented at the annual film festival here.

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Chile has charged Argentina with lashing Marines on the island of Snipe in the Cape Horn area and destroying a lighthouse there. Chilean and Argentine claims on territories off the tip of South America sometimes overlap. Chile says it has unquestionable rights over Snipe, but the protest note indicated that Argentina objects to Chile's maintaining a lighthouse on the barren island.

LONDON (AP)—Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir arrived in London today for talks about the Middle East with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd. Lloyd met her at the airport. One of the main topics for discussion between Lloyd and Mrs. Meir is expected to be Israel's ban on the airlift over Israeli territory to supply British troops in Jordan. Because of the ban, supplies have to be sent by sea by way of the Gulf of Aqaba.

ORIZABA, Mexico (AP)—A carload of picnicers on their way home turned over on a curve yesterday and plunged into the swift Blanco River, drowning nine persons. The dead include five children.

ALESSANDRIA, Italy (AP)—Gen. Achille Cavall-Molinelli, 83-year-old former polar explorer, died at nearby Sale di Tortona Sunday of a heart attack. In 1898 and 1899, as physician in the Italian navy, he took part in Italian expeditions to the Arctic led by the Duke of Abruzzi.

ALGIERS (AP)—A passenger train was blown off the tracks by a rebel mine near Oransville today. Three persons were reported killed and many injured. The dead were members of the military escort which accompanies every train in rebellious Algeria.

SAN JUAN, P. R. (AP)—The season's second tropical storm, Becky, swirled far out in the Atlantic today. It posed no immediate threat to land. In its 5 a. m. advisory, the San Juan Weather Bureau placed the storm about 1,200 miles east of San Juan moving west-northwest at 17 m.p.h.

PARIS (AP)—Robert Murphy flew home today from a Middle East trouble-shooting mission for President Eisenhower that began shortly after the Marines landed in Lebanon four weeks ago.

The U. S. deputy undersecretary of state conferred with officials in Beirut, Amman, Tel Aviv, Baghdad, Cairo, Addis Ababa, Athens, London and Paris. He talked with plete control. Another congressional committee was told the nation's economy could easily withstand a deficit of $900,000,000, $900,000,000.

Out of Mt. Rushmore, South Dakota, workmen were chiseling in the profile of Richard M. Nixon.

French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Morville and other diplomats here.

BEIRUT (AP)—A Syrian military plane fired on a Lebanese passenger plane over Damascus Airport Monday and pursued it to the Lebanese frontier. It was announced here today.

Neither the plane nor anyone aboard was hurt. The plane was a DC-3 belonging to Middle East Airlines. It was on a regular passenger flight from Amman to Beirut, using a route which took it over Syrian territory.

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret today returned home from a triumphal month long tour of Canada.

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP)—Canada's largest steel plant stopped production today in a wage dispute between the Steel Co. of Canada and 7,500 workers at Selco's Hamilton plant.

A strike voted last Wednesday by the local members of the United Steelworkers went into effect during the night after an inconclusive six-hour meeting of company and union representatives.

The company usually sets the wage line for Canada's other steel producers.

Ike Pinpoints East Trouble

NITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—President Eisenhower, pinpointing the trouble area in the Arab world, used the term "Near East" throughout his speech today.

A common diplomatic usage for the general area occupied by the Arabs is "Middle East."

In the reckoning of some geographers, this is a vast area extending from Greece, Turkey and Iran southward to east Africa and Pakistan. These geographers generally refer to the "Near East" as a smaller area usually including Cyprus, Turkey, Egypt and the Arab states east of Suez.

But in general, Americans have come to think of the whole area as the Middle East. It came with Britain's Middle East command in World War II.

Nationalists Fight Off Red Aircraft

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Two Chinese Nationalist patrol planes fought an eight-minute aerial battle with Communist jet fighters near Matsu Island today.

The Defense Ministry said the Nationalist planes returned to base safely. No hint on the undisclosed number of Soviet-built MIGs were reported.

The battle occurred shortly after the fifth air raid alert of the day on the Matsu group near the Red China mainland.

Jordan Sentences Arms Smugglers

AMMAN (AP)—A Jordanian military court today sentenced 12 Jordanians and 1 Syrian to death for smuggling arms into Jordan from Syria as the prelude to an attempt to overthrow King Hussein.

They face hanging unless their sentences are commuted.

UN May Have to Pause for China Question

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United Nations' 81 members may have to pause in their ding-dong fight over the Middle East, starting Wednesday, while they wait around once more with the old question of membership for Red China.

Every time this came up previously the United States lined up enough votes to keep the Chinese Reds out. It can probably do so again. But the State Department, as if expecting trouble, has just put out a 5,000-word document outlining the U. S. position on the issue.

This is in part a flat explanation—and in part a kind of question-and-answer explanation—of why the United States refuses to recognize the Red Chinese as the lawful government of China, and therefore opposes a seat in the U. N. for them.

It's a pretty cold, realistic document, unusually free of moralizing, except for one broad splash of wishful thinking. And in one spot it's a little less than candid.

It's wishful thinking for the department to say it holds the view that Communist rule in China is not permanent. There's nothing solid to indicate otherwise.

And it's a little less than candid in explaining American support of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government on Formosa—to speak of the Nationalists' growing power without adding Chiang couldn't stand five minutes without American help.

For a while in 1950—after the Reds drove Chiang off the mainland and to Formosa—the Truman administration's policy was one of non-interference in the Chinese civil war. This meant leaving Chiang to his fate.

This abruptly changed when the Reds entered the Korean War. Ever since, under both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations, U. S. policy has been the same: nonrecognition and opposition to a seat in the U. N. for the Reds.

Here is the U. S. explanation for refusing recognition: It's to this country's interest not to recognize the Reds. If the situation changes, and if it would be to the benefit of this country to change its policy, it will do so.

Without using this exact language, the department said the Reds outlawed themselves by their attack in Korea and by breaking agreements and promises since then.

Further, the Chinese Reds are breathing down the necks of their Asian neighbors and want to communize the continent. This country has lined up with the non-Communist nations and is doing what it can through economic and military help to keep them non-Red.

To give the Reds diplomatic recognition would give them prestige they don't have now, increase their influence, bewilder the non-Communist Asians, make them uncertain of American policies, and perhaps weaken their resistance to Peiping.

And, if this country gave the Reds recognition, it would lead to a U. N. seat for them. This would mean turning over Chiang's seat to them and, eventually, the end of his government.

Then the department dwelt on questions that have been raised about the wisdom of this American policy. And it gave answers. They went this way:

Don't the Red Chinese, since they actually run mainland China, have a right to American recognition? No. Such recognition is a privilege, not a right. This country can grant it or withhold it.

But how can this country "ignore" a government which controls all mainland China and rules over 600 million people? The department said the Communists who run China are only 2 per cent of the population and besides, because of their brutality, have caused a lot of popular unrest.

This is not one of the department's best arguments. Only a small percentage of the Russians are Communists, yet the Reds there control over 200 million people and this country, despite Soviet Communist brutality, has recognized the Kremlin regime for years.

Might not recognition of Red China eventually weaken the ties between Red China and the Soviet Union? The department said there's no evidence to support this belief and argued at length to the contrary.

Wouldn't this country widen its trade by recognizing Red China? The department doesn't think

Tapir Born in Chicago Zoo

CHICAGO (AP)—A 45-pound tapir born at Brookfield Zoo Tuesday, it appears, is a mixed-up young animal. For the present its only name is "It."

It is related to the horse and rhinoceros, looks like a pig and is living in the zoo's elephant house.

The sex of the South American river animal has not been determined.

"It keeps hiding behind its mother," said Director Robert Bean. "So, temporarily its name is 'It.'"

Much of trade possibilities with the Red Chinese.

British Reds Lose Many Members

LONDON (AP)—Britain's Communist party lost a quarter of its membership after the Hungarian revolt and is down to a postwar low of 25,000, an anti-Communist organization claimed today.

Nasser Decorates Soviet Air Chief

CAIRO (AP)—President Nasser granted his government's Republic Medal today to Air Marshal S. I. Rudenko, chief of the Soviet air force, to mark his visit to the United Arab Republic. Rudenko paid a 10-day official visit to Cairo last month.
